EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Jeff Rothenberg on March 23 and 25, 2004.

The application has been amended as follows:

In The Specification

On page 3, between lines 21 and 22, please insert the following sentence as a separate paragraph --Figure 6 illustrates a detailed view of the photocurrent-generating fabric in Figure 5.--

In The Claims

In claim 24, at line 4, please delete "contractors" and insert in its place --contactors--.

In claim 24, at line 12, please delete "contractors" and insert in its place --contactors--.

2. The following changes to the drawings have been approved by the examiner and agreed upon by applicant: Please remove reference sign 18 from Figure 8. In order to avoid abandonment of the application, applicant must make these above agreed upon drawing changes.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The distinguishing features of the instant device are that the support is formed by an axisymmetric tube of regular polygonal cross section, and that spacing between two adjacent rows of the recited photovoltaic cells is chosen in such a way that storage of the fabric on the tube of polygonal cross section allows the cells to be kept in a plane to one of sides of a polygon formed by the regular polygonal cross section. See, for example, instant Figure 3, where the photovoltaic cells (3) are distributed on the fabric (1) so that they are laid in succession on each plane face of the hexagonal tube (5).

The use of a polygonal shaft for an awning is known, for example, from DE 3501222 A1 (DE '222). However, DE '222 does not teach or suggest the use of photovoltaic cells on the fabric of its awning, let alone photovoltaic cells with the spacing as here claimed.

In Muller (WO 99/61721) the solar cell strips (2) extend in the direction of movement (retraction or extension) of the awning (1). The roller (4) for the awning is cylindrical. There is no teaching or suggestion of using a polygonal shaft (roller) and the instantly claimed spacing of the photovoltaic cells. Likewise, there is nothing in DE 3909937 A1 that would have led a skilled artisan to the use of a polygonal shaft (roller) and the instantly claimed spacing of the photovoltaic cells

Hanak et al (U.S. 4,636,579) teaches a retractable power supply. A cylindrical shaft is used. There is no teaching or suggestion of using a polygonal shaft and the instantly claimed spacing of the photovoltaic cells.

Art Unit: 1753

Faludy (U.S. 5,433,259) uses a cylindrical shaft for its retractable awning. The solar cells are not on the flexible fabric awning sheet (18), but rather are on slat (38).

JP 2001-123620 (JP '620), Verkleij (EP 916781 A1), and DE 20000681 U1 (DE '681) teach awnings with solar cells. In JP '620 the solar cells (19) are on the drop tube (12). In Verkleij, the solar cells (8) are mounted on frame/housing (2). In DE '681, flexible solar module (7) is mounted at the head of the awning. There is no teaching or suggestion in any of these references of using a polygonal shaft and the instantly claimed spacing of the photovoltaic cells on the fabric.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
